La Segunda Central Bakery has a long family history, rich in tradition, which began with Juan More' in the late 19th century. Born in the Catalan region of Spain, More' fought in the Spanish-American War in Cuba. Armed with a dream and a recipe for Cuban Bread developed during the war, More' decided to set off for Florida instead of returning to Spain. More' and Comellas, a fellow Catalan, bought a bakery, "La Primera de Ybor," from the original owner, Jose Alonso; subsequently, More' became a partner in almost every Cuban Bread Bakery in the area
